

Teaching STEM Science with Toys with Karen Jo Matsler!

This session features Dr. Karen Jo Matsler, a nationally known and highly regarded speaker and trainer in all things science. As with all other trainings she has done for us, this session is sure to inform, engage, and entertain!

Based on a middle school science base for ALL learners, this training is adaptable for elementary and high school science.

WARNING! :
This session may be highly addictive! You may never pass up a garage sale or toy sale again!

Participants will gain a greater understanding of key concepts involved with Newton's laws, energy transformations, energy conservation, work, and toy design.
